About the author

Willem Meints is AI Architect at Info Support, bringing a wealth of experience in artificial intelligence and software development. He has been recognized as a Microsoft AI Most Valuable Professional (MVP) for his contributions to the AI community.
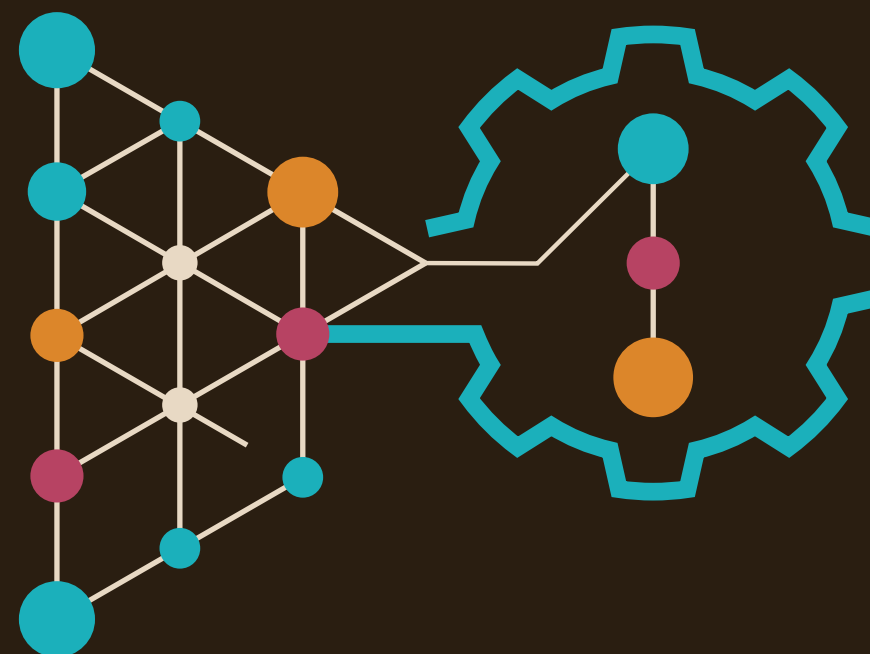

Willem is passionate about generative AI and machine learning, sharing their practical applications and insights on his blog, https://fizzylogic.nl/.

Beyond his technical pursuits, Willem is a fan of good BBQ, reflecting his appreciation for craftsmanship both in and out of the digital realm.

Willem's commitment to AI, his practical experience, and community engagement positions him as a leading voice in the field, dedicated to supporting innovation and sharing knowledge.

Building effective LLM-Based Applications with Semantic Kernel

Willem Meints